Questioned by Attorney Underwood, the witness recalled an episode in which she played truant from school with Dorothy and Phyllis Cleveland, her sisters.

"Mrs. Grover pointed her finger at me," the witness testified, "and said: 'You get out of this house.' He referred to me as a gutter rat," she cried and left the room. Later she was standing with my father in the doorway of Mrs. Ashley's room when Mrs. Grover came up and called me vile names.

Tyrell testified that one night Grover and Monte came to the farm, got a lantern and went to Grover's camp, which was near the creek. He said Dorothy Cleveland and Jenn Fickles slept at the camp. There were fourteen or fifteen sleeping rooms at the farmhouse, the witness said.

He said Monte slept at the farm at night, but the biggest part of the time he and Mrs. Grover were at the camp until around August 5, when the children arrived from Portland.

The witness said the couple took their meals at the farmhouse except breakfast now and then. Once Monte brought his little girl for a stay of several days.

Cross-examined by Attorney Sullivan, the witness said he did not always go to head early, although admitting he is a "regular farmer." He also admitted he did not keep a diary, an unusual situation in this trial.

Back in Cell, Donald Lowrie Tells Why

CONVICTS AIDED BY WELFARE BODY

Lowrie Tells How Musician Was Put Back on His Feet, and of a Faithful Wife

Back in prison after nearly four years of freedom, Donald Lowrie wonders "Why?" and he wonders as he looks the top, top, top of hammers driving nails into the plain wooden coffin of a convict whose hand he had clasped twenty minutes earlier. While still depressed with the thought—"men are worse than beasts," he is visited by Fremont Older, the man who had urged the writing of his earlier book, "My Life in Prison." Older asked him to tell why he was back in a cell.

"Not for yourself," said Older. "You don't count; and as you do, as individuals, but there ought to be a more in it, especially if you will lay bare your unnumbered secrets and analyze yourself truly." And so, sitting in the rays of the life-giving Arizona sun, a victim of his own weakness and sloth, and of the road of sin, and of the shame which led him back to a felon's cell.

RUM SCANDAL KILLS CHIEF QUINN'S JOB

Police Hold Two Suspects in Killing of Conroy

RUM PROBE PUTS CHIEF IN BAD

Swampscott Selectmen Tell Quinn He Can Get Out or Face Charges

Following a seven weeks' investigation of rum running in Swampscott, Chief William L. Quinn was today notified by the selectmen that they are contemplating his removal.

The chief, who is a World War veteran, was informed he would be granted a public or private hearing if he desired it on Monday night next in Town Hall at which time he will be confronted with charges.

The proposed removal of the police chief comes as the climax to an investigation of the landing of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of liquor on the shores of Swamp-

SIX ORPHANED BY BULLET FROM THUG'S GUN

Anthony Conroy, a bartender, was shot and killed by one of four thugs who sought to hold up a saloon at No. 323 Dorchester street, South Boston. The crime is an ordinary item in a bed's news. But beyond it is real tragedy. Conroy left a wife and six children when he went to work. This picture shows the stricken family. From left they are Anthony, eight; Helen, ten; Joseph, four; Edward, twelve; Fred, six; by the mother, Mrs. Ellen Conroy; James, twelve; Fred, six.

Anthony Conroy's fighting spirit brought about his death. In the face of four revolvers, he leaped upon one of the thugs. A bullet from the gun of another crashed through his heart.

years of life. A son of ex-Senator Martin L. Quinn of Lynn and a close friend of Mayor McPherson of Lynn, he has spent most of his life in Swampscott. During the war he was captured by the Germans, spending seven months in prison camps and nearly a year in hospitals as a result of having been gassed.

In 1919 he was appointed to the Swampscott police department and two years later was made chief.

NEW AUTO NUMBERS TRAILED

Witnesses Called to Look at Men in the Fatal South Boston Shooting

Two men were arrested today in connection with the shooting to death of Anthony Conroy, 38 years old, bartender in a near-by saloon at No. 323 Dorchester street.

Witnesses of the cold-blooded shooting will look over the two suspects.

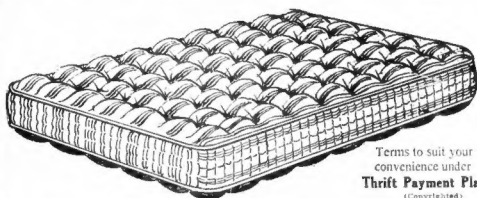

Captain Daniel J. Murphy of the South Boston station said that the police are investigating other automobile numbers besides those given out today as long as the car in which the thugs fled.

It was the "fighting Irish" spirit of Conroy that brought about his death. Four of the thugs entered the saloon with double revolvers. They ordered the half-drunken patron of the place to throw up their hands and one of the gangsters immediately began to search the nearest man, who happened to be Michael Joyce, owner of the place.

Conroy leaped from behind the bar and without any weapon but his face attacked the thug, whom he wounded down.

Conroy leaped on the fellow, when another of the thugs reached over and, placing the muzzle of his revolver over Conroy's head, fired. Conroy fell dead. The four thugs fled, one of them turning to fire another shot at Conroy's body.

The charges were based on reports made by Deputy Superintendent Edward D. Callahan and Patrolman Walter Reeves of the Lynn Police Department, who were loaned to the Swampscott selectmen by Mayor Harold A. McPherson.

WOMAN AIDED PROBE.
Much of the information obtained by the two investigators was said to have been obtained from a woman, formerly friendly with the rum runners from Boston and the North Shore.

The woman is said to have developed a grievance against her former friends, and, as a result, has talked freely to the officers. Callahan and Reeves are also reported to have captured an automobile which furnished the carrying of a quantity of illicit liquor.

Taxicab chauffeurs, it is said, have furnished affidavits to the effect that they were prohibited from driving on Puritan road, Swampscott, on certain nights.

MAGNUS CONVICTED.

Puritan road circles the shore for about three-quarters of a mile. The affidavits are said to set forth that on the nights in question police were stationed at each end of this road and diverted traffic into Humphries street. Heavily laden trucks were said to have been seen leaving Puritan road around midnight.

Since the investigation started John Magnus of Newton has been convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon on Harry Brown of Lynn. Brown, driving a constabulary car, was held up by Magnus, according to the evidence, the Newton man threatening a sawed-off shotgun in the window of Brown's car and announcing that "you'll make no more trouble for me."

Magnus surrendered when he and that Brown's passengers were constabularymen. The Newton man was said to have left an automobile driven by a Cambridge woman.

In Lynn court Magnus was fined $100 and appealed. His case will come up in Superior Court at Salem in May.

As a result of the rum-running activities in Swampscott a new Board of Selectmen was elected, the members of which pledged themselves to end the evil. The first investigation was made by State Officer William Murray, who turned over evidence he obtained to the district attorney of Essex county.

WAS GERMAN PRISONER.
Later, when Callahan and Reeves were borrowed from Lynn, this evidence was again turned over to them. They were given three months' leave of absence from the Lynn department, but apparently have completed the work in seven weeks.

HAVE PASSPORT, MISS M'SWINEY DECLARES

Landed in New York January 24 With British Papers, Irish Leader Says

Washington, April 29.—Considerable light was thrown today on the circumstances surrounding the government's inquiry into the presence in America of Mary MacSwiney, Irish Republican political worker, but the question of what officials intended to do about it remained one for speculation.

Professor Timothy Smiddy, who had previously been acquired by the secretary of any move in the case declared that he had called to the attention of the State Department published reports that Miss MacSwiney had announced that she arrived here without a passport. He denied any intention of press for her deportation. State Department officials declared the case now was out of their hands.

A report of immigration inspectors who interviewed Miss MacSwiney in Chicago was received today by Commissioner General H. H. Wood. He told them, the inspectors said, that she arrived in New York about January 24 on an English vessel, traveling on a British passport, she declined to produce the passport or to give the name under which she landed.

New York, April 29.—The presence of Mary MacSwiney in New York, to champion the cause of an Irish republic, was announced today by Miss MacSwiney at that time refused to reveal how she got into the country.

"There are submarine and air planes," she told a reporter, "and I might even have come down on one of the rays of the eclipse."

$20,000 Asked for Loss of Eyebrow

Jersey City, April 29.—Asking $20,000 for the loss of an eyebrow, Ralph Rogers of Weehawken, filed suit today in Court of Common Pleas against Michael and Catherine Beyer, who operate a bakery in West New York. N. J. Rogers said he would be suing for failure over a roll of steel netting on March 3 and plunging headfirst into a glass show case in their bakery.

ENGLAND HAS "WINTER AND SPRING" SAME DAY
London, England, April 29.—New that spring is here, so are vagaries of the English climate. This morning there was warm sunshine in Yorkshire. Then winter came, and a six-hour snow storm raged over the moors, making travel along the roads almost impossible. The northern professional golf tournament at Royal Lytham was postponed, the route of the Cycle Value's thousand mile ride was altered and sheep farmers throughout the district were busy sorting their lambs from one another.

CONNECTICUT WOMAN JURY BILL REJECTED
Hartford, Ct., April 29.—The House today voted to adhere to its action of rejecting the bill to make women eligible for jury duty which the Senate adopted in spite of an unfavorable report by the Judiciary Committee. This ends the matter this session, the Senate having refused to reconsider its action in adopting the bill.

LOCKWOOD PUT IN JAIL; AWAITS SANITY TEST

Drink-Crazed Patrolman Quits Force; Says He Doesn't Know What He Did

The quick transition from a Boston policeman to an inmate of the Charles street jail was made today by Patrolman Ralph F. Lockwood, after he had pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to drunkenness, and not guilty to a charge of robbery.

Lockwood, attached to the City Point station, ran amuck in the South End, held up a storekeeper and after his arrest twice attempted suicide in his cell.

Following his plea before Judge Crowl, the policeman was remanded to the Charles street jail in default of $5,000 bail. A hearing for Lockwood, who resided today and who will be examined by a physician, was set for May 5.

He told Superintendent Crowley he had been drinking for four or five days and did not know what he was doing when he held up a grocery store.

FACES LONG TERM.
If Lockwood, after observation, is adjudged sane, he faces a number of charges, and a long term in prison.

Dressed in civilian clothing but carrying his police revolver, Lockwood entered the store of Norma Trotter at No. 55 West Brookfield street, South End and held up the proprietor. The policeman, covered with a revolver with his revolver, took $35 from the cash register, and fled. A woman who had been in the store a short time before the hold-up was found to have no connection with the case.

The robbery was reported to the police and Sergeant Charles W. Miller and Peter J. Norton and Patrolmen Haddell and Curry of East Dedham street station were sent to the scene of the robbery.

As Sergeant Miller waited today in the cell and endeavored to hang himself, a move to draw his revolver. Patrolman Curry grabbed Lockwood's arm and prevented him drawing the weapon.

DRUNKEN DRIVER BILL PUT RIGHT TO WORK

The Federal Grand Jury expected to return New Frame of Indictments
The Federal Grand Jury today began a new investigation of the Salisbury Beach liquor scandals, which were thrown out in Judge James A. Lowell's session of the Federal District Court last autumn.

sent to the scene of the robbery. As Sergeant Miller waited today in the cell and endeavored to hang himself, a move to draw his revolver. Patrolman Curry grabbed Lockwood's arm and prevented him drawing the weapon.

FOUGHT ALL FOUR.
Then a rough and tumble fight ensued in which Lockwood fought the four patrolmen until their clothing was in tatters.

The patrol arrived with help while the fight was in progress, but it was with difficulty that the apparently wild man was taken to police station and placed in a cell. There a doctor examined him and refused to pronounce him as being under the influence of liquor.

A few moments later, Lockwood made a noise of his belt which he fastened about a steam pipe in the cell and endeavored to hang himself. When the cell door was opened Lockwood was on the floor, the belt having broken.

A guard was placed in front of the cell and a few moments later Lockwood was again prevented from ending his life by placing a rat about a steam pipe and waiting an end around his neck while he tugged violently in an effort to choke himself.

Captain Henson asked Lockwood why he held up Trotter. Lockwood replied that it was to teach the store man a lesson.

"I have known this greater for a long time," he said, "and he has said that no human could ever hold him up. This afternoon I went in to show him how easy the job would be."

B. & M. SEEKS WRIT TO STOP FITZBURGH BUS
A bill in equity, brought by the Boston & Maine Railroad Company, has been filed in the Superior Court to enjoin Franklin L. Hart of Boston from operating motor buses in competition with the railroad between Boston and Fitzburgh.

The first obtained license from the city of Boston, Rossmore, Cambridge, Waltham and Fitzburgh, and the towns of Watertown, Belmont, Wrentham, Lorton, Concord, Andover, Boston, Littleton, Averb, Burlington, Lunenburg, Lunenburg and Lancaster.

The Boston & Maine says the assessed value of its property between Boston and Fitzburgh is $500,000 on which $25,000 in taxes is paid annually to the cities and towns.

The company says its passenger revenue has been reduced, and the loss has been increased by the operation of the motor bus between Boston and Fitzburgh will be curtailed.

EX-FIRE CHIEF DAVOL OF FALL RIVER DEAD
Fall River, April 29.—William C. Davol, widely known as a fire fighter, died at his home today aged 84 years. He was a member of the Fall River fire department 60 years and 40 years as chief, retiring September 15, 1924. He invented and perfected many devices for fighting fires, including the Davol water meter. He was treasurer of the Fall River fire department and also owned a cotton and cloth brokerage business. He is survived by his daughter, Martha G. Davol, with whom he made his home.

Marion Davies in "Zander The Great"

You Will Love Mamie!

Mamie is the latest role of Marion Davies. She is the central character of Zander the Great.

Mamie is a human, vivid figure—with a remarkable sense of humor and a remarkable resourcefulness in an emergency.

Mamie has personality. She is different and yet very, very modern. She lives her own life, comically or dramatically, as the mood inspires her—and in the end—well—

You will want to see—and know—Mamie.

You will love her.

And what a cast!

ROMANCE ANEW FOR LOUISE DITTEMORE

Reconciled With Spanish Husband 2 Days Before Divorce Is Absolute

Just when the oil in the lamp of romance for Louise Dittmore-Alfau, Boston beauty, burned low and it seemed certain that the flame was to flicker out, new oil was added and romance now glows brightly anew for the daughter of John V. Dittmore, former trustee of the Christian Science Church.

Two days before the divorce of the beauty from her Spanish grandnephew, Luis Alfau, was to become absolute, a petition was filed in the Suffolk county court asking that the divorce decree be set aside as the couple were reunited.

The divorce was granted last October on the grounds of cruelty and abusive treatment but did not become absolute for six months. Then, at the last moment the attorney for Mrs. Alfau filed their petition asking that the divorce be set aside without prejudice as "she and the libeler have settled their differences and are now living together."

On March 7, 1925, Miss Dittmore's parents announced her engagement to Captain Noel Digby Johnson, an officer of the British army. It was further announced that the couple would be married in June, 1926, at "Tunbridge Wells, England. She had been in Kent, England, with her mother and met the captain when she was studying art there.

For some reason this marriage did not materialize. It seems that while "traveling in England or on the continent she met Luis Alfau, son of the late chamberlain to King Alfonso, of Spain. Alfau, a striking appearing young man of pure castilian type, with black hair and piercing brown eyes was the antithesis of the young woman with her blue eyes and golden hair and once more opposites attracted.

In addition to the condition Miss Dittmore spoke Spanish fluently and Alfau spoke English reasonably well thus removing all barriers in so far as languages were concerned.

On August 12, 1925, just two months after the date set for Miss Dittmore's wedding to Captain Johnson, the couple were married in New York with only the immediate families present.

The young couple lived for a while in Boston and New York, but Alfau succeeded in securing an important position with the United Fruit Company in Cuba, and they went to that island to live.

TENSE SCENE FROM "ZANDER THE GREAT"

The picture shows Marion Davies, star in Metro-Goldwyn's latest photoplay and Harrison Ford, who supports her in the cast. "Zander the Great" will open Monday at Loew's State Theatre. The story is widely known and the play had a phenomenal run on Broadway.

BOYISH PRANK MARION DAVIES ROCKS HOUSES, HURTS SIX TO BE SEEN IN NEWEST FILM

Manchester, N. H., April 29.—Buildings rocked, windows were broken and six youngsters were injured, these are seriously true in the hospital, as a result of the impossible incident in youngsters to imitate their elders.

A group of small boys saw older boys apply a match to a tree in a street, mainly at Amory and Bowdoin streets, West Manchester. A faint blue flame arose in the air.

The smaller boys, the following day wanted to see the blue flame. They lit a match and held it to the hole in the cover. There was a deafening roar, the manhole cover leaped high in the air, adjoining buildings shook and windows were broken.

who is left with a motherless child to care for.
Combining deft comedy touches with strong drama and with a wealth of large to the later episodes of the picture, "Zander" is a genuine novel and one which promises a new achievement for Miss Davies.

SLAYER OF OWN CHILD IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS

Houlton, Me., April 29.—Aron Fox, son of Washburn, Indiana, for the killing of his infant child on January 2, received his plea of not guilty to manslaughter. He was sentenced to not less than five nor more than ten years at hard labor in State prison by Associate Justice Norman L. Bassett.

Dies of Burns

Sayreville, R. I., April 28.—Mrs. Edna Arnold, forty-nine, wife of Ernest J. Arnold, and who was badly injured while at work around a gas engine Saturday morning, died at her home here. Her husband who is survived by two sons and a daughter.

BEST BETS FOR THE LISTENER TONIGHT

The Excellency, the Governor, will speak over WNAC this evening at 7:30 p. m. about "Tomorrow's May Market." This is an allusion to the all English custom of filling baskets with flowers on the morning of the First of May and taking them as a spring offering to friends. Just what the Governor is going to express under this head we don't know—but it will be very interesting to find out at 7:30 p. m.

There is to be a Farewell Reception and Concert to Vincent Lopez and his orchestra over WJZZ to-night from 11:30 p. m. until midnight. This orchestra, perhaps the finest in the United States, has been heard over WJZZ very often, and now they are leaving for a tour in Europe. They are giving this feature as a farewell to their friends, and the program will be even a little better than usual—and that is saying something.

The University Extension Course over WJZZ, by Professor Green Newberry has been of the greatest interest to an increasingly large number of students.

How GAS FUEL is cooking the meals in BOSTON'S Leading Hotels

GAS FUEL is used in these And Many Other Boston Hotel Kitchens.

The Copley Plaza Hotel
The Hotel Brunswick
Hotel Lenox
Hotel Westminster

In many of Boston's hotels you give your order to Jacques or Henri and he has a way to serve you. While you wait, calmly chatting with your companion, there's much activity back in the hotel's kitchen. Michel or Georges has to be cooking of your order and do it quickly, because you expect service—the best.

That's where Gas, the most efficient fuel, comes to your service. Gas fuel makes possible the quick cooking of your order—it is always ready-to-be used and can be perfectly controlled. Gas is flexible—the flow can be increased or lessened at will. For broiling, baking, boiling or frying—gas is a clean fuel and furnishes the ideal degree of heat. That's why hotel chefs like it.

This same gas fuel is available for your own home cooking and water heating. Let it help you to the fullest degree. Ask us and we'll tell you how.

Radio Queries

Editor's Note: The Technical Editor has been receiving lately, quite a few questions pertaining to the use of resistance coupled amplifiers. These questions have been so numerous that we have decided to devote this column to the subject of resistance coupling. We will be glad to answer any questions that may be sent to the Editor's Office.

Q—What is the limit to the number of stages of resistance coupling?
A. N. K.—The number of stages of resistance coupling is limited by the resistance of the transformer used for coupling. For each stage, the resistance of the transformer should not exceed the resistance of the amplifier. If the resistance of the transformer is too high, the amplifier will not be able to drive the transformer, and the signal will be lost.

LAST NIGHT

The radio debate between Boston College and Holy Cross was with-out question the star event of the evening. This was handled in a masterly manner by WJZZ. The debate was a very interesting one, and the audience brought into use two broadcast stations, two separate studios and a special wire circuit between Boston and Providence. Boston College was on one end of the circuit, while Holy Cross was at the other. As soon as the team in Boston finished an inning, they would be answered by their opponents in Providence. Loudspeakers were in use at each station so that the contestants could check up the arguments. The real impressive part of the affair, however, was the fine display of oratory by the students of these two New England colleges.

CAPE STATION PUTS ON SUBSTITUTE PROGRAM

Mattapoisett, April 30.—Called upon to pay a heavy royalty to the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers of Boston, radio station WJZZ, Cape Cod, cancelled the program of Donald Morton and his gang from Plymouth and substituted numbers furnished through the courtesy of Oliver Ditson Company of Boston.

Free to Asthma and Hay Fever Sufferers
Free Trial of Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time

We have a method for the control of Asthma and Hay Fever, which is so simple, so easy, so quick, so sure, that it is a free trial of our method. No matter whether you are a sufferer from Asthma or Hay Fever, you should send for a Free Trial of our method. No matter what climate you live in, no matter what your occupation is, if you are troubled with Asthma or Hay Fever, you should send for a Free Trial of our method. We especially want to send it to those who are suffering from Asthma or Hay Fever. These instruments were played respectively by Vera Powell, Joseph Bortin and Martha Powell. Such an instrumental combination reproduced particularly well over the radio.

I tried for some results on the shorter waves last night. Down here WNAC may be found dozens of stations, and some of them have real fine programs. The only one I could get in last night was WJZZ at Newark, and he was so ragged that it was of no advantage to hold him.

PRINCESS RIGO ACCUSES HER SAMARITAN

Friend Who Aided Violinist, Wife and Cats Now Regrets "Hospitality"

New York, April 29.—John Hamburger, who played the role of Good Samaritan to Rigo, a Hungarian violinist, was today served with a summons charging him with using abusive language.

The complaint was sworn out by Mrs. Rigo, to whom Hamburger declared he was also hostile, even though unilaterally.

This hostility, he said, was stretched to include five trunks, three canaries, two parrots, three cats and some twenty parrots.

Hamburger said that when he heard the violinist playing in an East Fourth street restaurant Sunday night, he was moved to sympathy and gave $5 and an invitation to spend the night in the Hamburger apartment, where his host stayed with his mother, Hamburger said.

He recognized Rigo as a famous violinist who had chased kings and emperors, and went on.

The next morning, Hamburger said, he found Rigo still in the apartment and with Mrs. Rigo, the artist, catbirds and parrots. The Rigos refused to leave, Hamburger said.

Abetted by the neighbors, who objected to the parrots, he delivered another demand that the apartment be vacated, and then when they turned deaf ears he committed the offense for which Mrs. Rigo had him summoned.

Hamburger was ordered to appear in court and answer the charges. In the meantime the Rigos are making the best of his hospitality, he said.

MARTHA LEE GREETES WOMEN

Cut shows the rest room of the W.N.A.C. Boston. Every American Women's Club at the Home Beautiful Exhibition at Mechanics Building, Martha Lee and Jean Sargent are on hand every day from 3 to 4 o'clock, to advise their sisters. Tasteful souvenirs are given out at the booth.

THEATRE GUILD ALL EUROPE SHOW AT HOME BEAUTIFUL BY 'REDS'

Both Burlington's "The Trestling Place," by the Theatre Guild of Boston and the assembled gals and buns of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will be the leading feature tonight at the Home Beautiful and Building Trades Exposition at Mechanics Building.

The Theatre Guild has won an enviable reputation in Boston theatrical circles of the ability of the amateur, while it is the only one of its kind in the city. The Burlington play will be produced in Paul Revere Hall under the direction of Mrs. Helen Adelaide Shaw, who is also to take one of the leading roles.

The Technology club, under the tutelage of professional teachers, have become recognized as leaders in collegiate music circles. They will give their concert tonight to popular numbers.

The Girl Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls also are conducting daily programs that are exciting much favorable comment. The booths were crowded day and night with people eager to watch the home building work that the girls are doing. Cookies, cakes and candy are made and sold by the groups.

Four-R Set Can Be Drowned by Noise of Crowd

In the Boston Evening American booth at the Home Beautiful Exposition the new Boston Evening American Four-R radio receiver is attracting crowds of admirers. It isn't the only radio set in the show, but it is not exactly what is far from it. There are radio sets all about, and there is an orchestra playing in the gallery, and there is talk of talk and noise and the crowds of interest in this, the clearest of the Four-R sets through which a punch that makes people stop and ask what on earth we have there in the way of a radio that sounds so exceptionally clear and true. The voice of the announcer coming through the Four-R receiver as if the big boys themselves were in the booth.

Radio reports from other exhibitors and from among the crowd are attracted by the sound of the Four-R set as they are attracted by a host of honey. That look in the eye that denotes the Radio Pan-A look that, while it is not exactly what is certainly far from tame—is observable in those who gather round the Four-R and the Radio Editors are kept busy answering questions and explaining that the clear tone is due to the use of a special stage of resistance coupled audio.

This method, by the way, is coming into more general use as the public demands better and better sound from their radio receivers.

DYING MOTHER WANTS MISSING GIRL TO RETURN

Cheney year old New York girl, known to be in this city, is located, her mother who is dangerously ill, a home will die, without realizing her last wish.

Six months ago Virginia left New York and came to Boston. During that time she communicated with her family but never sent a return address. The only address that she gave was that of her mother's home in New York.

Mrs. Margaret Contrails, the missing girl's sister, who lives at No. 12 Rockwell avenue, Medford, has appealed to the Boston Evening American to help find Virginia.

Barefoot Lawyer, Losing Bet to Go on Hike

Morganstown, W. Va., April 30. Several Services—R. A. Lear, eminent attorney and Democrat of this city, may be found any day strolling around his law office foot. His naked feet have been a usual sight, too, on the streets.

But he made a wager that the Democrats were defeated he would walk barefoot from Morganstown to the sea coast, and when that bet was elected to him, he took his terminus.

"I can't accept rides nor 'hike' the way," he said today.

A dispatch from Rome says the police have proof that a strong anti-government offensive is planned throughout Italy tomorrow. Some of the propaganda used a practical action against the ruling classes and said: "Italian brothers, show your selves worthy of the heroic revolutionaries who are fighting in Bulgaria for our common cause." "BOGUS" PARSON'S BOND INCREASED TO $5,000

William E. Stetson, alleged bogus minister, who was arrested on the charge of kidnaping Mrs. Anna Tobin and Charles Wellington of Ivanhoe street, was described as a "dangerous criminal—a burglar in record in New England prisons," by Special Officer Louis Stetson when the officer sought increase of bail from $1,000 to $5,000 before Judge Creed in Municipal Court today.

The increase was granted pending further investigation of the latest charges of Stetson in this city. That the alleged bogus parson's statements to the police have been false was stated by Superintendent Di Sena, who said that Stetson has been a "dangerous criminal—a burglar in record in New England prisons," by Special Officer Louis Stetson when the officer sought increase of bail from $1,000 to $5,000 before Judge Creed in Municipal Court today.

U. S. ADVANCES RESENTED BY LATIN-AMERICANS

Washington, April 30.—The part played by citizens of the United States in Latin-American nations at the meeting of the Inter-American Association for the Advancement of Women, The United States found much food for discussion in a declaration by Miss Eleanor Tilton, delegate from Mexico, that the United States often played by the United States in the affairs of Latin America had been creditable to neither nation, and a statement by Mrs. Jean T. Tilton, representative of the United States, "fear and resentment" towards American attempts in "securing more control in Latin America."

FREE LESSONS IN SWIMMING FOR BOYS

Evening American, in Co-operation With Boys' Club, Offers Real Chance to Learn

Do the fathers and mothers of Greater Boston realize that the coming season is already under way and marked with tragedy, and that the hot summer dawn soon in June will find their boys rushing to swimming holes, rivers and the beaches?

YOUR boy take care of himself in deep water? Can he enjoy himself safely like the other boys who can swim? Will he be taking a chance every time he tries to enter the pools of his pals in the water?

The Boston Evening American, believing that the number of lives lost by drowning can be greatly reduced, and believing that every boy should have a chance to enjoy the pleasures of swimming, announces today a LEARN-TO-SWIM opportunity for Greater Boston boys. Funding in age from eight to twenty-one years.

Every boy who wants to know how to swim, and every boy whose parents think he ought to learn, is invited to receive instruction under arrangements made by the Boston Evening American, in cooperation with the Boys' Club of Boston, one of the first boys' organizations to be found anywhere, and which has its attractive club building on Green street, near Thompson square, Charles town.

The instruction is free. The place is in the big, big Boys' Club "Club," which is in charge of the lessons. He will be assisted in time by Captain Jack Wallace, chief instructor of the American Red Cross in this section; by Bob Muir, head swimming instructor at the Boston Y. M. C. A.; by Dave McSweeney, swimming instructor of the Massachusetts Humane society, and other experts.

The only obligation for the boys is to be sent to its assistance.

POLICE SEARCH FOR MELROSE SCHOOLGIRL

Mildred E. Johnson Missing from Home Since Last Thursday

Police throughout New England and at points as far away as Nova Scotia are on the watch for Mildred E. Johnson, fourteen-year-old High school freshman at No. 191 Melrose street, Melrose, who has been missing since last Thursday.

The girl was last seen leaving a rear exit of the High school in company with a companion, Lillian Bennett, said to be a State ward, living with a family in Melrose.

School friends of the girl have told the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Johnson, that the two girls had planned to run away for some time and had talked of going to Nova Scotia or some other place in Canada.

The girl is described as being large for her age, with light brown hair and a very round face. She wore a blue chiffon dress, long plaid coat and black pumps.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

Use Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root

Judging from reports from druggists to Boston, there is no preparation that has been so successful in curing kidney conditions. The mild and healing nature of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest test of the most reliable medical opinion. An examining physician for one of the largest insurance companies in the United States has written: "I have made the astonishing statement that no reason why one might be rejected for insurance are common to the American people, and the large majority of those who apply to me for insurance are rejected because they have the disease." Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the only medicine that cures kidney trouble and restores the system to its normal state.

Thousands of men and women who are suffering from kidney trouble, and who are not aware of it, are being rejected by insurance companies. This is because they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the only medicine that cures kidney trouble and restores the system to its normal state.

EDITH GOULD'S OWN STORY of THE LIFE of a RICH GIRL

Gould Heiress Tells the Intimate Details of Life of Rich

By EDITH GOULD WAINWRIGHT
Daughter of George J. Gould and Granddaughter of Jay Gould
CHAPTER XXXIV

IT STILL LAGS when I recollect my sensations during my first ride in the subway. My parents never permitted my child to enter the subway or a street car or a public omnibus. My mother feared that we would make a scene. Later when we boarded the train to go to Lakewood by train we remained in the car rather than in the cabin. On train we always occupied a drawing-room and the governess would invariably close the door and ring for a porter to open the windows. At some of the children had our own automobile and chauffeur to go where we pleased.

When Carroll was working downtown it was not possible for him to come home for lunch, so I used to ride down to the financial district and have lunch with him in a restaurant. We were living in the apartment but to us being brother George at Park Avenue and Seventy-sixth Street.

Carroll insisted that I take the subway to go to the Central and there to board an express. As it may seem I felt very much surprised as I sat on the platform waiting for the train. My surprise was great when people asked me whether to get into the cars without giving those about to get off a chance to leave. I watched this confusion with such staid interest that I must have been the first to see it. I had learned the lesson and was among the first to hurry on.

From the INSIDE LOOKING OUT

The death of Edward J. McKeever, president of the Brooklyn National League baseball club, is greatly to be regretted. It illustrates an instance of loyalty to his former chief, Charles H. Roberts, who died on April 18.

McKeever acted as honorary pallbearer, standing long in the open air on a chilly day with his head bowed. He was a former player and has won many games.

NURMI BREAKS THREE. Los Angeles, April 30.—Paavo Nurmi in a mile and a half run here last night beat Lind Holm, Boston A. A. star, topped from dusk to dawn. Nurmi won the mile in 4 minutes 42.50 seconds.

The Passing of Dundee

By JACK CONWAY

Johnny Dundee, master boxer over a fifteen-year period, has lost the fire and dash which enabled him to defeat more than 300 opponents. The great little Boston star has lost his lustre. The sparkle of ring supremacy has been taken from him.

Two Boston boys, Red Chapman and Dick (Honeyboy) Finnegan, were nominated by fate to prove to the world that Dundee has passed the crest of his ring greatness and is on the way to the bogs. Chapman conquered Dundee in this city, while Finnegan performed the feat in a match in Wash. D. C.

This writer had the privilege of being at the ring when Dundee made his first Boston appearance against John G. Kent at the Boston Arena in 1914. Dundee won by a knock-out in eight rounds. He hit Gallant almost at will and once in a while a solid punch in return. The Dundee of 1914 was one of the fastest boxers we have ever seen in action.

Dundee made his last great ring effort when he defeated Eugene Oriou for the world's featherweight championship in New York two years ago. Since then Johnny has taken into the easy life of a champion and has gone back.

Dundee always fought fairly and gave his best to the boxing game. His fine sportsmanship and willingness to meet his opponents from featherweights to welterweights have won him admirers throughout the world. Now his fistic work is done. He may put away his gloves and boxing outfit and pass over his crown as featherweight champion to one of the young men who have been crowding him off the peak of his boxing career.

Kid Kaplan, Red Chapman, Dick (Honeyboy) Finnegan and Edward Mascart are today the outstanding featherweights.

MY LIFE STORY

From the Time of Her Birth, on Her Father's Luxurious Yacht, "The Sybarite," This Story Tells the Experiences of a Rich Girl

There were no vacant seats. Seeing other "standards" I thought I'd look about at what was to me, a strange spectacle. Some of the passengers were actually sleeping in that dimly lit, despite the swaying and jerking of the cars, were reclining as they clung to the straps. Each time the train halted I nearly fell down. But the ride was great fun. I could understand the fun. I could understand the Italian and German spoken around me, but another tongue that sounded a bit like German puzzled me. Suddenly I learned it was Yiddish. Every noon I traveled with my mother to lunch with a husband and at night I cooked dinner. My mother's father promised to let us have an apartment in one of his remodeled buildings in Greenwich Village when George and his family moved back to the city in October.

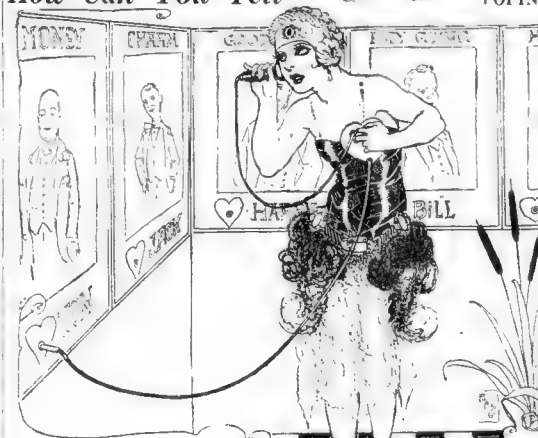

Carroll was doing so well at business that we found ourselves able to engage a maid. We were lucky enough to get a "gem," a colored girl who gave us part time service. She was a skilled cook, and although he did not contest it I am sure Carroll welcomed the changes from my dishes. That winter many of my friends were coming out and I felt very dignified going to their parties as a young mistress. There were some pretty debates that year, but in my opinion, the low end was Virginia or Harry and the high end Miss Mabel. She is a beautiful blonde with blue eyes, and I think is the prettiest young matron in New York society today.

A few days after Christmas Mamma sent me word that she would like to see me. I went to No. 87 Fifth Avenue and was forbidden for my eloquent Carroll, and I went to spend New Year's at Georgetown Court.

A happy reunion that was. After New Year's Mamma said we were to go away from her in Green

BABY, she gripped me by the hair and I felt her chair to steady herself. "Why do you cry, Barbara?" "Am I crying?" she asked. "I thought I was but now I know I'm not." The name was Fritz Kugel? She was the greatest German of her day.

"How do you know?" J. B. said. "I'm interested in Carmen," she babbled. "God, this is—listen, J. B."

She hummed the motif of La Boheme. He watched her with a strange gleam in his weary old eyes and cupped his hands.

"What a voice!" he cried. "Am I crying?" she asked. "Am I crying?" she asked.

"No, I want you for you. You're crying, J. B."

"It's all right," she declared. "The lady comedian," she said. "What do you say, J. B.?"

"I'm a boy," she said. "I don't know the girl's sex."

"What a difference it makes!" she shrieked.

"None the less I'll be a girl," she said. "Barbara, I've heard you say 'Barbara' I was going to marry."
